If you are referring to a specific site please include a map so that it is clear where the boundaries of the land are.

We need comments by 28th September 2016 so we can consider them before the plan is finalised.

What is the East Devon Villages Plan?

The East Devon Villages Plan is being produced by East Devon District Council to help guide decisions on where new development should be directed in selected villages – including Uplyme.

How will the Villages Plan work?

The Villages Plan will show a black line (called a Built-up Area Boundary) around Uplyme. Inside of the black line new houses will generally be acceptable, but outside they will only be acceptable in special circumstances.

What will the Villages Plan Change?

The approach of drawing black lines to guide new development in East Devon goes back many years. The Villages Plan will review where these lines should be drawn and provides an opportunity for anyone to comment on where the line should be drawn. For Uplyme, the main changes proposed when compared to the existing line are:

- The village hall, an area next to the river, a couple of dwellings to the East, two houses along Rhode Lane, a property along Crogg Lane and houses bordering Lyme Regis to the south-east of the village have all been included within the boundary.
- Some large dwellings to the north-west up Lime Kiln Lane, an area adjacent to Lyme Road and the old railway track, and housing along Walley Lane have all been excluded from the boundary.

How have the new black lines been drawn?

We have used a set of criteria to help us draw the lines so that a consistent approach has been used. We generally try to ensure that the main existing built-up areas are included, together with areas already agreed for development (through planning permission or planning allocations). Buildings with large grounds on the edge of settlements tend to have been excluded.

Have alternative approaches to defining lines been considered?

Yes, we have considered a range of alternatives including not having boundaries, drawing boundaries more tightly or drawing them more loosely, but these options have not been progressed, partly because they differ from the approach set out in the Local Plan (which was adopted in January 2016). However, further work has been done to see if the boundaries drawn using our criteria should be reduced where it is difficult to access local services and facilities on foot. The housing development in the red hashed markings to the south has been excluded on the basis of its location on a steeply rising slope, making it difficult for people to access from the main village, particularly for older residents and those with pushchairs. Additionally, we are seeking views on the approach put forward in the Uplyme Neighbourhood Plan, which proposes an alternative development boundary and has been shown as a blue line on the map.

How does this affect me?

Being outside of the black line just means that planning permission is less likely to be granted for new housing and industry, it does not mean that your house is not part of the village in any other way. It does not affect changes to your home that can be made without planning permission.

Where can I get more information?

The draft consultation Villages Plan and supporting documents, including a site by site appraisal of the sites considered are available:

- At the Council Offices at Station Road, Sidmouth, EX10 8HL
- Online at:
<http://eastdevon.gov.uk/planning/planning-policy/villages-plan/villages-plan-2016-consultation/>
- In local libraries and a copy has also been sent to the Parish Council.

What happens next?

We will consider all the comments made before producing a plan for further public consultation. It will then be formally submitted for consideration by an independent Inspector who will decide whether the plan is 'sound'.
