

[REDACTED]

From: horatio hornblower [REDACTED]
Sent: 03 January 2023 06:44
To: Planning Policy
Subject: New housing plan for East Devon

Dear sir I would like to say that any new areas of housing should be created with wildlife at the forefront of any plans.

I believe prospective builders should be heavily encouraged to incorporate nest boxes for birds ie Swift bricks, House Martin nest boxes House Sparrow boxes a Super Highway for Hedgehogs to obtain access to gardens at night perhaps some hidden areas for them to sleep during the day.

I also believe wild area with a good pond also Bat roosting boxes perhaps also a Kestrel nest box or two. Some native trees of course and hedgerows.

Any new housing developments would be a marvellous opportunity to create a wildlife friendly eco system area, all you have to do is create the spaces and the creatures would colonise it over time.

I hope I am not for too much but it would be a great opportunity.

Regards Dennis Harrison of Seaton