Sir

I would like to comment on the above and object to any major new housing development in Chardstock village without any improvement to the main access road into the village. This is a single carriage road with no proper passing places which after the last major housing development in the 1980's and now a new school being built is completely inadequate for the volume of traffic at "rush time" in the mornings and afternoon. In over 20 years of living various villages I have never had to plan my day around being able to exit or access where I live because of the difficulties with traffic along a single carriage lane! To make matters worse the hedges along part of the lane still haven't been fully trimmed back.
